

TAKE HOME POINTS

1. Looking to our King quiets concerns over secular rulers, events, and authorities
2. Looking to our King bolsters confidence to submit to secular rulers
3. Looking to our King fits our smaller story into God's grander redemption story
4. Looking to our King differentiates superficial peace from genuine peace
  - a. Peace that transcends military safety
  - b. Peace with God

TAKE HOME POINTS

5. Looking to our King reminds us to be humble
  - a. The most entitled King chose poverty over comfort
  - b. The most powerful King ruled by humility
6. Looking to our King tells us how to live.

"Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven (Matthew 5:3).

